Full-Body Oil Application Techniques

(A complete, repeatable way to cover the whole body safely, efficiently, and therapeutically)

1) Purpose & first principles -

Why oil? Warm medicated oil lowers skin-fascia friction, carries herbal actives, and cues the parasympathetic system.

Core rules - light first, then depth; distal → proximal for limbs (but clear proximal basins first); match pressure, direction, intention to the person and the goal.

2) Set-up: oil, temperature, hygiene, draping -

Oil & heat - choose per dosa/season; warm to 38-40 °C in a water-bath.

Quantity - 90-150 ml for a standard 60-min session (see table for region split).

Hygiene - short nails, clean hands/forearms; patch-test sensitive skin. Keep floor non-slip, towel ready for drips.

Draping - uncover only the area being worked; maintain client warmth and modesty throughout.

3) Global sequencing logic -

Proximal "clear" → distal "move" - briefly prepare inguinal/axillary basins so venous/lymph flow has somewhere to go.

Axis \rightarrow sides \rightarrow local - sweep the midline (Suṣumṇā), balance left/right, then address local concerns.

Warm \rightarrow work \rightarrow seal - spread a thin film, deliver therapeutic strokes/marma holds, finish with a quiet hold (heart or crown).

4) Standard 60-minute protocol (table/mat) -

Position order - Supine (front) → Prone (back) → Seated/finish. Adjust to context.

A) Supine lower body (10-12 min)

- Priming film - 5-7 ml per limb, quick spreads from ankle upward.
- Foot & ankle talahridaya heel press; gentle ankle pumps.
- Shins & calves long distal → proximal glides; light cross-scoops around tibia (never sharp).
- Knee & thigh broad palm over Jānu margins; forearm glides along quads/adductors; finish with brief holds at Ūrvi
- Proximal clear 30-45 s light skin-stretch at inguinals before switching legs.

B) Abdomen & chest (8-10 min)

- Abdomen 6-8 ml; clockwise circles following colon; small spirals around Nābhi.
- Rib arcs & sternum intercostal thumb glides on exhale; Hridaya broad palm rest (no deep vertical pressure).
- Breath cue "Inhale 4, exhale 6."

C) Supine upper limbs (8-10 min)

- Hand-forearm-arm light film; distal → proximal glides; avoid cubital fossa compression.
- Wrist & elbow palm circles at Manibandha, cross-fibre Kūrpara edges only.
- Axilla clear 30 s feather spirals at Ani (oblique, not vertical).

D) Neck, face, scalp (4-5 min)

- Anterior neck feather-light lateral strokes (avoid carotids); ear-to-clavicle sweeps.
- Face/brow Sthapanī circles; jaw release along masseter (light).
- Scalp oil-optional; slow crown hold to settle.

Transition wipe - remove excess oil; invite prone turn safely.

E) Prone posterior chain (20-22 min)

- Feet & calves repeat distal → proximal with longer forearm passes; Achilles along-fibre only.
- Hamstrings & gluteals forearm ulnar glides; optional elbow on dense knots (never over sciatic notch/marmas; dose modest).
- Sacrum & low back heel/palm decompression along sacral groove; no direct spinal jabs.
- Thoracic & scapular region long paraspinal glides; rib obliques; scapular borders (lower trap/serratus facilitation).
- Shoulder line posterior cuff along-fibre; finish with Apasthambha paraspinal holds (breath-timed).

F) Seal & finish (3-5 min)

- Midline sweep sacrum → crown with foot or palm (1-2 passes).
- Seal broad Hridaya or crown hold, 2-3 quiet breaths.
- Clean-up wipe excess oil; assist client up slowly; single line of homework.

5) Side-lying & seated modifications -

Side-lying - ideal for pregnancy, reflux, or shoulder focus: place pillows between knees and under waist; work top side fully (leg, hip, flank, shoulder) then switch.

Seated finish - for Kapha heaviness or dizziness risk: brief neck/scalp work and chest seal upright.

6) Tool choices & pressure dosing by region -

- Thumb sūkṣma marmas/borders, short holds, oblique angle.
- Palm/forearm long fascial planes (thighs, back), energy-efficient.
- Elbow dense non-vital tissue only, slow entry, exit slower. Keep intensity ≤ 5/10; follow the rule of thirds for depth.

7) Dosha & climate adaptations -

Vāta1 (cold, tense) - sesame-bala oil; slower tempo; longer distal holds (feet/ankles); optional light steam finish.

Pitta 1 (hot, irritable) - coconut-manjistha; even tempo; avoid friction; cool cloth on face post-session.

Kapha1 (heavy, puffy) - kottamchukkādi; brisker light strokes; brief podi-kizhi before limb glides; seated finish.

8) Common mistakes & quick fixes -

- Too much oil too soon film first, top-up every 5-7 min so you can still feel tissue.
- Skipping proximal clearing - always ready the groin/axilla before heavy distal work.
- Pressing vertically on agni marmas switch to broad, breath-timed contact.
- Overworking one spot once heat rise + pulse soften + sigh appear, move on.
- Therapist strain hinge at hips, stack joints; switch to forearm before wrists complain.

9) Clean-down & integration -

Wipe excess oil; offer water; advise light movement (short walk) and no intense heat/alcohol for a few hours. Note what changed (warmth zones, breath, ROM) for next visit.

Summary Tables

A) Region timing & oil guide (60-min session)

Region	Time (min)	Oil (ml)	Key notes
Feet & lower legs (supine)	5-6	10-12	Distal→proximal; ankle pumps
Thighs & knees (supine)	5-6	12-14	Forearm along-fibre; brief Ūrvi hold
Abdomen & chest	8-10	8-10	Clockwise abdomen; broad Hṛidaya
Upper limbs (supine)	8-10	10-12	Clear axilla; avoid cubital fossa depth
Posterior legs (prone)	8-10	14-16	Long forearm glides; light hamstring pin-and-stretch
Back & shoulders (prone)	10-12	14-18	Paraspinal long; rib obliques; scapular edges

Pregnancy Deep abdomen, strong steam Side-lying, light lymph, brief chest holds

Key take-aways

- 1. Film first, depth second—feel tissue, don't just slide on oil.
- 2. Clear proximals, move distals—that's how venous/lymph return stays smooth.
- 3. Match dosage to doṣa and tissue—oil, pace, and tool are your prescription.
- 4. Seal the session—two quiet breaths at heart or crown anchor the change.

Use this template as your default full-body flow, then tweak volumes, timing, and marma emphasis to the person in front of you.
